Larguire Trouble Again In The Local Court

The difficulties between the borough and Louis Larguire on account of improvements the latter desires to make at the Reed avenue bridge, have been refreshed by the second arrest of Mr.Larguire on a charge of having proceeded with certain work without the consent of the borough.

Mr. Larguire has recently completed a new brick building at the bridge approach, corner of Fourth street, and he desires to connect the sidewalk along his property with the sidewalk on the bridge and have a portion of the rail removed. The council has gone on record as being unfavorable to any tampering with the bridge, which decision interferes with the plans of the property owner.

Several times Mr. Larguire has been given to understand that he must live up to specifications laid down by the engineering department of the borough, as the rail cannot be removed from the bridge. He has made several attempts to finish the work after the designs of his own architect, but twice he has been arrested.

When he appeared before the burgess yesterday he was permitted to go on his own recognizance and to appear later for a hearing. The date has been set for Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

Revoke License Of Drunken Driver

Highway Commissioner Robert J. Cunningham demonstrated that he meant business when he gave warning ten days ago that he would revoke the automobile licenses of men who run cars while intoxicated, by annulling the license of Oliver O. Willet of Johnstown. Willet was arrested in Johnstown for operating a machine while under the influence of liquor and pleaded guilty. As he had been arrested on the same charge before, Mayor Joseph Cauffield notified the commissioner.

The commissioner reiterated his statement that he would revoke licenses for operation of cars by drunken people, adding that he was doing his best to keep roads in good condition and did not propose to allow anybody to endanger life.

Two days ago he brought a Huntingdon man to time for running a car with only one tag and has declared he will forfeit some licenses if people persist in loaning tags or fail to display the two required.

500 Men Are Working On Mill Site

Excavation has been started for the foundations of the first of a series of buildings that will be incorporated in the new spelter plant to be erected at Donora by the United States Steel corporation at a cost of $3,000,000. Five hundred men have been put to work in shaping the ground for construction and the enterprise will furnish employment to not less than that number while the plant is being erected. When ready to operate, it is estimated that approximately nine hundred will be regularly employed.

Zinc ore is the raw material used in spelter plants and the chief product is spelter, with a number of by-products, such as lead and sulphuric acid.

The first building to be erected has been located at a point one hundred feet north of the Donora-Webster bridge. Engineers are now at work on the plans. The construction is under the direct charge of H. A. Barron of Cleveland, general superintendent of steel works and blast furnaces of the Pittsburgh and Cleveland districts of the corporation. It is likely that Mr. Barron will spend most of his time in Donora during the process of construction.

Divorce Trial Before Master

In the divorce trial of James Reese against his wife, Jennie Reese, the little seven year old son, Frederick, according to the father, will be one of the leading witnesses. An application has been made to have the testimony taken before a master at the August term of court. The couple have been married twelve years and during the greater portion of this time they have resided in Monessen. They have one child, Frederick whom the father will attempt to get the custody of. Mrs. Reese left about four weeks ago and instant divorce proceedings were entered.

Carnival To Show Here Next Week

The Barkoot aggregation which will furnish the attractions for the Summer Carnival at the Monessen show grounds all next week, arrived about noon today on its own special train of eighteen double length cars, including baggage and Pullman sleepers.

This organization carries more than 200 people and early on Monday morning, long before most of us are awake, this small army will be busily engaged, creating the white city to provide fun and entertainment during the entire week.

As a fitting prelude to the festivities, the Royal Italian band connected with the company will give a free concert on the streets about noon on Monday. This band has a national reputation and Signor Mummolo is to be commended for the excellence of his organization. Their repertoire extends from rag time to grand opera and it is predicted that these concerts will prove a popular feature before the week is old.

The Barkoot midway is extensive and includes not only clean and up to date performances, many of which, it is claimed have never before been attempted by any traveling company. It is the manager's pride that ladies and children may attend any exhibition without an escort, being assured of the respectful consideration of every attendant in the company's employ.

The portable electric lighting plant now in use on the Barkoot outfit, has a capacity for furnishing about 2300 lights and is an engine of marvelous efficiency, having been built by the General Elictric Co., especially for this organization.

Several sensational free acts have been provided by the management, including a high wire act by Mons. Masuli and a baloon ascension with multiple parachute drop. These, with the line-up of high class pay exhibitions and the delightful free concerts by the famous band, indicate an aggregation whose moritorious features will cause it to be long remembered in this locality.

Musicale For Milk And Ice Fund Successful

The musicale held yesterday afternoon and evening at the home of Mrs. J. D. Luce on Reed avenue for the benefit of the local milk and ice fund was one of the most successful and entertaining events of the season.

The afternoon program was carried out as announced. Miss Clara Hart rendered piano solos much to the pleasure and delight of those present. Miss Myrtle Clendennon in a charming manner presented "The Sign of the Cross."

Mrs. C. C. Wright and Miss Mary Glunt as soprano soloists were highly entertaining and Mrs. Sara Hileman Keys, a graduate of the vocal department of the California Normal class of 1915 sang several pleasing solos and appeared on the program again in the evening. Mrs. Keys has a voice of rare scope and beauty and those who missed this musical treat in the afternoon, availed themselves of the opportunity in the evening.

Miss Mary Chester, a graduate of Bethany school of expression, was the reader of the evening.

Mrs. A. G. Lewis sang in the evening and another entertaining number was the piano solo by Mrs. Calvin H. Dils.

One of the chief attractions of the evening was Miss Norma Bosson, violinist. Miss Bosson ranks high in her profession, having won the three year scholarship at Peabody Institute. This places her in the front ranks of violinists in the United States.

Safe and Sane Fourth Is Urged

In announcing the list of stations throughout the state where tetanus ant-toxin may be procured in a hurry for Fourth of July accidents, State Commisisoner of Health Samuel G. Dixon declares that Pennsylvania "for the past four years has had a larger toll of accidents resulting from Fourth of July celebrations than any other state."

The commissioner says that in 1914 a quarter of all accidents reported on Independence Day were in the Keystone state and that he hopes this year there will be "a safe and sane" celebration.

Dr. Dixon has made arrangements for the state-wide distribution of tetanus antitoxin. This will be furnished without cost to the poor.

M. & B Have Many Specials

M. & B., the old reliable ice cream and confectioners are always to the front with a list of delicacies that meet with public approval. They carry the largest variety of ice cream of any establishment in town and enjoy a large patronage at their beautiful ice cream parlor. Today they have peach ice cream with fresh peaches, pineapple ice cream with fresh pineapples, blackberry cream from fresh blackberries and strawberry cream from the homegrown berries. The chocolate cream made from the powdered cocoa of the Hershey chocolate is the best in the city. They never carry a supply of patent flavors, making all flavors themselves from pure ingredients. A visit to their estabiishment will assure you that M. & B. are the real leaders and carry the best. All telephone orders promptly attended. 1-2t

HARVARD-YALE BOAT RACE THIS AFTERNOON

New London, Conn., June 25—The unbeaten 1915 Varsity crews of Harvard and Yale will clash this afternoon for the collegiate rowing championship of the season and for the leadership in this historic rowing event. It is the 49th rowing contest between the great universities at Cambridge and New Haven, and each has registered 24 victories.

After months of hard training and several weeks of polishing off at the scene of the race, both crews are said to be in wonderful condition. The Yale eight is heavier than usual, and consequently more powerful at the oars. The big fellows have been trained to perfect unison, and their oars catch the water and come out as cleverly as the experts have seen it done. The Harvard crew will be selected definitely at the last moment form a big squad of clever oarsmen. The crimson was primed to row Cornell on May 22, and in judging their chances in the big race today, the experts are speculating whether the marvelous form then can be maintained a full month. That the Harvard crew was fast in the two mile event when they defeated Cornell on Lake Cayuga, is no proof that the men can stand the gruelling four-mile course so well. While the lengthening-out process was going on in the Harvard camp, the Yale oarsmen were beginning to be pruned, and fresh training is no small advantage in a long contest.

The rowing board has eliminated all chances of a repetition of the mix-up that marked the finish of the race last year, when the judges deliberated and shifted before deciding that Yale had won by about four inches. One judge will decide the issue this year, no matter how close the shells finish. Harry Fisher of Columbia, will be the judge at the finish.

COLLEGE STUDENTS TRAIN AS WAR OFFICERS

San Francisco, June 25—An unusual number of college students of the west are enrolled in the college training camp which opened at the Presidio today for a five weeks' training ocurse. The training of educated men so that they will be of immediate use in emergency, as commissioned officers, is encouraged by the government. Uncle Sam provides without charge, cots, blankets, tents, sweaters and a complete outfit for each man. Shower baths, medical attention and other aids are provided free, and the cost to the student officers, outside traveling expenses is only $3.50 a week for board and $5.00 for a cotton uniform with hat and leggins.

The work of the camp is divided into two parts. The compulsory work consists of lectures, drills and maneuvers, and is confined to the mornings, leaving the afternoons free for optional work. Thorough instruction is held in cavalry riding, military map making and in artillery drill. Mine laying and demolition are demonstrated and the theories of defense are carefully analyzed.

Similar encampments to the one opened here today, will be opened on July 5 at Chickamauga Park, Georgia, Ludington, Mich. and Plattsburg, N. Y. and will extend until August 8th

LOCAL MAN WRITES INTERESTINGLY ON WESTERN TRIP

Vancouver, B. C.
June 18, 1915.

Editor Daily Independent:

Some time ago I decided to take a little vacation and see the far west of the United States which I had never seen and which the much advertised exhibitions in San Francisco made it particularly attractive.

My father and mother, myself and wife formed a little party and we left Monessen April 26, taking a train to Cleveland, thence to Indianapolis and St. Louis, where we stopped over night, then going without stop to Kansas City where we made our first stay. We inspectel the stock yards and were amazed at the tremendous number of heads of cattle waiting there to be slaughtered. We also saw the excellent way in which the work is done in the slaughtering house where the animals which we had seen just a while before in the yards, were turned into meat ready for shipment in an incredibly short time. We also saw Louis Wiles' candy factory and saw enough candy there to win the hearts of all the charming girls of Monessen for a long time.

Leaving Kansas City, the train took us through the prairies to the Rocky mountains and we came to Denver, which with its beauiful residences interested us most, situated as it was on the slope of the mountains with a view of the snow capped Rockies in the distance. We went over the next day to Colorado Springs, a beautiful resort where the sun shines they say all the year round, although sometimes it doesn't. We made an auto trip to the mountains and saw that this country is reallly colored as its name says, all the rocks being red. We went to the old Indian home of the cliff dwellers, saw "The Cave of the Winds" and "Seven Falls" but the finest view was the "Garden of the Gods" where among beautiful green trees, red stones and rocks, one can see queer forms sometimes like gigantic birds and other most interesting things. Snow and mist on top of Pike's Peak made it impossible to take that trip on which a railroad takes you up to a heighth of 1,500 feet and from where they say you have on a clear day, a marvelous view.

Well we had to leave Denver without having been up there and went to Salt Lake City. We noticed that the Mormons, although they say that some of them still have several wives, don't look any different from any other people. They certainly know how to build a city because Salt Lake City is magnificient and has probably the most beautiful buildings that we have seen so far, such as the Mormon temple, Brigham Young's monument and others. Clear water is running on each side of the street and the city is the cleanest you can imagine.

Great Salt Lake is most interesting because we tried it ourselves at Salt Air beach. There is 26% salt in the water and everybody floats whether he knows how to swim or not. From there we crossed the Rockies once more and went down through the beautiful vallies of the Pacific slope to Los Angeles, the city of Palms and orange groves. They have used their wealth which they have accumulated from fruit growing to build splendid business blocks and hotels and beautiful residences. Every residence has at least one big palm tree in front and everybody looks prosperous and satisfied, although they say business is not as good as it ought to be. The beaches are grand and the inland cities, like Passadena, are really swell, especially the streets lined with pepper trees which are a wonderful sight.

We made the trip to San Diego and saw their exhibition which has beautiful buildings, but much less in them than we had expected to see. We saw the surroundings of the city, the harbor with Point Loma where the sailors of the battle ship Maine are buried. We saw some of the battleships that had come down through the Panama Canal and finally down to Tia Juana, which is right across the borded in Mexico. It was very queer and worth while to have seen it. Some fellows looking like bandits were pointed out to us as being soldiers of the army of Francis Villa. The gambling houses tried to get away with some of our money but didn't succeed.

After having seen the Old Mission at San Diago, we returned to Los Angeles where we spent a day with Mr. William Bertleman and wife of Monessen and Mr. N. J. Burger, formerly of Monessen, an old time friend of Mr. Bertleman. We then took the train north to San Francisco where we arrived after a twelve hours' trip.

I haven't room in this letter to tell about the impression the Fair made on us. I wish many of our friends could go out and see it. It is most interesting and instructive. The buildings are marvelous and the sight when the whole exposition is lighted up at night, in an entirely new way, can never be forgotten. It would require weeks to see all of the interesting things, and especially interesting are the exhibits from China and Japan, the Phillipines and Canada. Unfortunately on account of the war, there is very little to see in the houses reserved for the European countries. The most interesting feature shown on what they call the "zone," the place for the pleasure resorts, is a beautiful model of the Panama Canal where you can see the entire construction, the ships operating through the locks and over the water way, all the lights, signals, and so on.

In the city itself, which seven years after the big fire, is practically rebuilt, you see still many ruins of that awful day of disaster, but the spirit there is so progressive that in another few years nobody will think anything of it. One of the queerest sights is China Town, a community in itself with its own telephone service, the people there trading practically among themselves, a very interesting sight, especially late in the evening. We saw the United States mint with a stack of gold valued at one hundred and fifty four millions. We went up to Mt. Tamalpias on the most crooked railroad in the world and enjoyed the unique sight from the mountain over the waters of San Francisco on its long out stretched peninsula and through the Golden Gate into the distant waters of the Pacific ocean. You can hardly imagine a more magnificient sight.

A boat ride on the bay caused us to wonder why they ever called this ocean with its wild waves "Pacific." However, we came home without being drowned and not too seasick. We went to Golden Gate park, famous for its exotic trees and splendid flower beds. We saw San Quentin Penitentiary, certainly as nice and clean a prison as one can see, with a delightful surroundings of mountains and waters. One might become a criminal for a chance to stay in this lovely place. I can tell you that there was not one day in the four weeks which we spent in San Francisco which was not interesting and delightful, and we were really sorry when we finally had to leave, having spent several agreeable evenings with Ralph Maxwell formerly of Monessen.

We finally took the famous Shasta Limited which through the grand Sacremento valley andl the splendid mountains and Coast Range, took us into fruit growing Oregon and its famous main town, Portland. There is a volcano, which can be seen from this trip, but usualy it does not smoke or spit fire when the Shasta Limited passes by.

Well, we came to Portland just in time for the famous Rose Festival and the parades which we saw there during the three days we spent in the city, were certainly lovely, every auto being decorated with roses and roses could be seen and smelled every way you turned.

We then went to Seattle and I must say that we were all delighted with that city, which being the metropolis of the Puget sound country, combines the thrifty life of an important harbor with the beauty of a place situated between high mountains and the blue waters of the sound. The climate is delightful, although it rains more than in the interior. They never have any extreme hot or cold weather, but always moderates, days and cool nights of which we sometimes will dream when we are back east with the sultry nights of summer when nobody can sleep.

We then boarded the Canadian Pacific steamer across the Puget Sound to Victoria and Vancouver, British Columbia, where we met with a great many British soldiers. Although the citites are badly affected by the war and mourning for the loss of many soldiers which they sent over to Europe. We will take the C. P. R. crossing the splendid passes of the Canadian Rockies, going through snow and ice in the summer days, seeing the famous summer resort of Bamff and then down to Galgry, and from there to the boundary line of the United States. Wheat fields, which is one of the richest districts in the world, coming back into the states via Winipeg, St. Paul and Chicago.

I can tell you there are lots of beautiful things to be seen in the United States, but home is home after all, and I will never wish for a better place to call my home than Monessen. I will close with kindest regards to all our friends in Monesen.

J. J. Golding.

ZIONISTS BOOM PLAN FOR JEWISH NATION

Boston, Mass., June 25—That the war with its revision of territorial lines, is the opportune time for the restoration of the Jewish nation in Palestine, is the belief of leading Hebrews in America who gathered here today in large numbers for the convention of the Federation of American Zionists. Ten national Zionist organizations are represented in the meeting, representing all wings of the Jewish movement, from the orthodox to the reformed or liberal Jews. Louis D. Brandeis, president of the Federation, will preside and the deliberations will occupy an entire week.

Although the movement for the return of the Jew to his nationality and the scenes of his former greatness is not a new idea, the trend of the times has given an impetus to the movement, for it is felt by the Jewish leaders in all parts of the world that the aid which Jews have given to the nations in men and money would entitle the race to consideration in any war settlement, so that the old land of the Hebrew can revert to him.

Among the leaders in the movement in America are Mr. Brandeis, Dr. Stephen Wise, Nathan Straus and Judge Julian Mack. It is expected each will speak and that other prominent members of the race will be heard.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
